Project of Distance Learning between Japan and Korea on Moral Education using DVTS and Web-GIS

Takashi Fujiki
(Faculty of Edu., Nagasaki Univ.)
t-fujiki@net.nagasaki-u.ac.jp
Our studies about distance learning.

• Tsushima – Tanegashima (2001 in Japan) with cellular phone, multi point
• Gotoh – Fukuoka (1999 in Japan) with 2 screens, VIC, Phoenix
• Gotoh – Shimabara (1998 in Japan) with PHS, ISDN, VIC
In this year (2003)

- Planning Japan – Korea distance learning (on moral education) using the DVTS and the Web-GIS.
- Looking for the school and University in Korea.

So I will introduce a rough outline of our plan for finding Korean partners.
OVERVIEW OF OUR PLAN

- OBJECTS
- PERIOD OF TIME
- EXPERIMENTAL ENVIRONMENT
- SCHOOLS OF DISTANCE LEARNING
- OVERVIEW OF LEARNING
OBJECTS

1) Carry out distance learning between Japan and Korea on moral education using DVTS and Web-GIS.
2) Make clear educational effects of Web-GIS.
3) Make clear movie’s quality for class work.
Moral Education

- Differences of the sense of values between self and others
- Differences generate a conflict of values
- People learn moral through conflict

Japanese - Korean

Big difference

- Students should be able to learn very good
PERIOD OF TIME

Distance Learning with DVTS and Web-GIS

Autumn, 2003
(One day within from September to December)
EXPERIMENTAL ENVIRONMENT

Korea side

Screen 1 (Other's Classroom)  Screen 2
Web-GIS

PCs for DVTS

router

Japon side

Web-GIS Server

Screen 1 (Other's Classroom)  Screen 2
Web-GIS

PCs for DVTS

router

router

PC for picture analyze

SINET
JGN
QGPOP
KJCN
KOREN

Japan Kyusyu (Japan)
SCHOOLS OF DISTANCE LEARNING

Junior high school or Primary school

Japanese side
● attached school or public school at Nagasaki

Korean side
● Near the Kangwon university at Chuncheon or any other areas
OVERVIEW OF LEARNING

- Virtual classroom with each other's screen
- On-line communication with human interpreter
- Exchange information by each other's students (or pupils) during this year
Thanks you very much.
I am appreciate for your kind attention.

Takashi FUJIKI
(Faculty of Education, Nagasaki University)
t-fujiki@net.nagasaki-u.ac.jp
Virtual Classroom

Korean side

One Classroom

Japanese side